MILLIONAIRE BEACH ON WITNESS STAND

Claims a Negro Made Attack on His Wife Instead of Himself.

[By Associated Press.]
Alken, S. C., Feb. 6.—Frederick O. Beach, the millionaire clubman on trial here charged with an assault on his wife, when placed on the witness stand in his own defense today testified he and his wife, as they sat reading, heard the first two mysterious screams to which the prosecution's witnesses had previously testified. When Mrs. Beach took the dogs out he heard her scream and rushing out found her leaning against a porch post of an adjoining house. He saw a negro run from some bushes, but he went direct to his wife and got her inside, after which he went upstairs for his pistol and set out searching for the negro.

Mrs. Beach testified.
Mrs. Beach followed on the stand, corroborating her husband vividly.

CALL FOR STATE BANK QUARTERLY STATEMENT

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, Feb. 6.—A call was issued today for statement of the condition of State banks as of February 4.

WANTS ROADS THROUGH THE COUNTRY

E. F. Dehart of Harvey is not in favor of fixing first-class roads for just a few miles in every direction from town as a starter and extending them as the county is able, but believes that only four roads should be built out from Bryan, and they should be extended through the county to the county line. He said that personally he did not think much of the streets of Bryan as examples of good roads, either.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE

Governor Colquitt Submits a Message Recommending Radical Educational Changes.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, Feb. 6.—Governor Colquitt today sent a message to the Legislature recommending constructive educational changes. This included a need for adequate appropriations; complete separation of the State University and the A. and M. College; more efficient country schools; a bond scheme of $3,000,000 for the University of Texas with a pledge of the income from the endowment for interest charges; a tax assessment for distribution between the A. and M. College and the State University for their upkeep; the establishment of a loan fund, and for a Constitutional amendment to embody these changes.

The message includes a recommendation for an ideal university with one huge campus and buildings thereon for all of the State colleges. This merger plan and the proposed division of taxes to meet the concurrent expenses of the various State institutions are the principal features of the message.

Would Amend Insurance Law.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, Feb. 6.—In the Senate today a bill was introduced by Senator Gibson amending the insurance law so as to permit foreign companies to return to the State without paying back taxes, making the compulsory investment feature optional, and providing that the gross receipts tax be lowered in proportion as more securities are invested in Texas.

The Congressional redistricting bill was introduced as forecasted, but with these changes: Placing Rockwall in the Dallas district, Harrison County in Vaughan's district, and Wood County in Young's district.

The Senate recessed while discussing the Watson bill to bar minors from saloons.

IN THE HOUSE.

[By Associated Press.]
Austin, Texas, Feb. 6.—The House finally passed the following bills:

Woman's rights.
Prohibiting the use of the Texas flag for advertising purposes.

Requiring wholesale liquor dealers to pay gross tax receipts on sales to retailers and consumers both.

Allowing counties or sub-divisions thereof to issue road bonds by a majority vote.

Public contractors to make bonds protecting their workmen and those furnishing material.

The House parks committee adversely reported the bill placing the Alamo in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Buildings.

AMBASSADOR BOYCE MEMBER HAGUE COURT

[By Associated Press.]
London, Feb. 6.—Ambassador James Bryce at Washington has been appointed by the British Government as a member of the permanent Hague court of arbitration.

INDIANA DEMOCRATIC EDITORS MEET

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—The mid-winter meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association opens here tonight at the Denison Hotel. At the opening session, at which a banquet will be a feature, Governor Samuel M. Ralston will speak. Other speakers will be Lieutenant Governor W. P. O'Neill and Henry A. Barnhart, Representative for the Eleventh district. President Gwin will also deliver his annual address.

At a business session Friday morning B. F. Logansport will read a paper on "The Efficiency of the Association," and a paper on "The Editor in Politics" will be read by A. N. Croycroft of Franklin. W. T. Gooden of the Lawrenceburg Register will lead a round table discussion on "Good of the Association."

DEFEAT OF TURKISH ARMY REPORTED

The Defeat Places Control of Coast of Marmora Sea in Hands of Allied Forces.

[By Associated Press.]
Sofia, Feb. 6.—The Bulgarian War Office announces the Turkish army occupying the Gallipolis Peninsula was defeated near the River Kavak yesterday and is retreating toward the northeast. The Bulgarians announce this victory puts the whole coast of the Marmora Sea as far as Bulair in the allies' hands.

It's Worth Money to Think Sometimes

If you'd think for a moment you'd readily see that we have every advantage in the piano business. It costs $75.00 to sell a piano where an agent is employed—his salary and expenses have to be paid sometimes for a month before he sells a piano. You don't need an agent to talk you into buying; you know your needs; you know your ability to pay. Give more thought to the people you buy from than to the name on the piano. We are not musicians with an opinion of makes; we are business men with a knowledge of what constitutes value. Not a cent of expense to us to sell pianos and organs—no extra salesmen, no more rent, no expense of hauling—absolutely no selling cost. We are in the piano business to stay! When you understand that you can come right to this store and select one of the World's Best Pianos and buy it at a price no more than others have to charge for cheap makes, and then you'll save yourself the expense and annoyance of an agent, too. You couldn't buy a better piano than the "Crown," you couldn't get a better piano for the price than the "Concord." We offer you a piano for $150 that is equal to many sold for $250. Our prices are the lowest, our terms are easy. If you want a piano, let us put one in your home.

GENERAL STODDARD ENDORS- ES A. AND M. AUTHORITIES

Writes Strong Letter to Colonel Milner—Says Before One Can Command Must Learn to Obey.

Commending President Milner and the faculty of the Agricultural and Mechanical College for their action in dismissing the four hundred or more students who signed a statement demanding that the twenty-seven students dismissed for hazing be reinstated, Gen. H. B. Stoddard of Bryan has written Colonel Milner expressing his sentiments in that matter. General Stoddard, the highest ranking man in Masonry in America, says that students must learn to obey before they can learn to command.

His letter is one of 248 received by Colonel Milner commending the faculty for their course in the recent rebellion. More than one hundred and fifty telegrams commending the faculty have been received also.

These letters, in the main, are from parents who had boys in the school and who are anxious to have their sons reinstated.

General Stoddard has kept in close touch with the college. He was living in Bryan at the time the school was founded. His letter follows:

"Mr. President—Permit me who was present at the birth of the A. and M. College and who has always been a well wisher of the school, like I am confident every good man and woman in Texas is, to express to you and through you to the members of the faculty my commendation for the dismissal of the students last week. Before one can command, one must learn to obey. This the boys must learn or they will never command, not even themselves.

"I am a well wisher of the A. and M. College.

"H. B. Stoddard."

PROFESSOR NAGLE RETURNS TO COLLEGE

Has Been Away Several Months for Benefit of His Health.

J. C. Nagle, dean of the school of civil engineering at A. and M. College and author of many engineering manuals and other books, has returned from a six months' leave of absence. Professor Nagle left the college last June suffering from a nervous breakdown. He sailed to New York and spent several weeks there and then went to Canada and Niagara Falls. He then returned to New York City, where he spent the winter. He spent a few weeks with his daughter in Atlanta, Ga., before returning home. Mrs. Nagle is still in Atlanta and will return home in about a month.

While Professor Nagle went away to rest, he was not idle during his absence. He did considerable lecture work at Cornell University and addressed the Good Roads Congress at Washington City.

THE "OWL" AGAIN IN TROUBLE

A Small Derailment at the I. & G. N. Crossing—Another Serious Disaster Narrowly Averted.

The Houston and Texas Central northbound "Owl," due in Bryan at 2:19 a. m. and two hours late, was derailed at the crossing of the International and Great Northern tracks in this city this morning; the engine and tender running onto the ties. An International and Great Northern freight train was in the block at the time, which causes the derailing device to be thrown open and danger signals to be displayed on the semaphores along the Central tracks. The engineer, it is said, claimed that his airbrakes did not work promptly. He slowed up in time, however, to prevent serious consequences, the guard rail keeping the engine on the ties, where the chances of overturning were not so great.

SCHOOL OF MINES FOR WEST TEXAS

CLAUDE HUDSPETH

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 6.—Hon. Claude B. Hudspeth, representing the Twenty-fifth district in the Texas Senate, will probably introduce a bill in that body during the present session of the Legislature looking to the establishment of a school of mines under State control, to be located in this city. It is proposed to establish the new school on the site of the old El Paso Military Institute, and owners of the institute have offered the buildings at a figure far below their actual cost in order to encourage the establishment of the school in this section.

It is pointed out by Senator Hudspeth and other representatives from this section that Texas is the only State in the Union with such a large mine area which has no school of this nature.
